Response for the needs of labour market in Poland

A shortfall of employees is one of key problems the Polish labour market is facing today. Employers struggle with cadre deficiencies and fight among themselves for involved and responsible employees. Aware of needs created by the work environment, we support employers and companies by hiring foreigners for the needs of Polish investors and business activities. Work in Poland for the employees from Uzbekistan is a chance for higher salary which contributes to the increase in the level of life quality for themselves, and also their families.

A lot of Polish companies take the decision to hire foreigners. The cooperation of companies and enterprises with workers from the East enjoys great popularity. People coming to Poland from Russia, Belarus, Uzbekistan or Ukraine are characterised by strong motivation to undertake employment. These are valuable and trained workers, who can perfectly manage on many work fields and in many different industries.

The employment of foreigners living in the countries outside the European Union means the necessity for Polish employers to complete certain formalities. For many companies these constitute an obstacle which is a reason to withdraw and abandon the idea about this type of employment. Eurokadra has been supporting companies for many years and offers help in employment intermediation of foreigners across Poland. Foreigners employed by Eurokadra have legal employment and all formalities and activities connected with the recruitment process stand out due to high professionalism and diligence.
